John Conner (played by Christian Bale in the new film) is not the main character in the fourth film. He will have a more sizable role in the fifth movie.

✂✂ The main character is a badass “Riddick”-like guy named Marcus (couldn’t they have come up with a better name?) who wakes up on post-apocalyptic Earth around 15 years before the future shown in the original “Terminator”.

✂✂ When the producers said they are making a new trilogy, they aren’t kidding. The whole thing is apparently mapped out [meaning the fifth and six films as well].

✂✂ Marcus is the star of the new trilogy.

✂✂ No actor has been cast as Marcus [as of this posting].

✂✂ The action in “Terminator Salvation: The Future Begins” (the upcoming fourth film) is described as “huge” including some battles with the T-600s.

✂✂ The new story focuses on the degrees of difference between humans and terminator/human cyborgs.
