Here is the synopsis for “Cosmopolis”:

From director David Cronenberg (“A History of Violence,” “Dead Ringers,” “The Fly,” “Eastern Promises”) and based on the prophetic novel by Don DeLillo, “Cosmopolis” is a contemporary thriller that turns into a wild, hypnotic odyssey through our new millennium’s obsessions with power, money, control, information, technology, violence, sex, mortality, revolution, destruction and ultimately redemption.

Unfolding in a single cataclysmic day, the story follows Eric Packer (Robert Pattinson) – a 28-year-old financial whiz kid and billionaire asset manager – as he heads out in his tricked-out stretch limo to get a haircut from his father’s old barber. All the while, he’s remotely wagering his company’s massive fortune on a bet against the Chinese Yuan.

Packer’s luxe trip across the city quickly becomes dizzyingly hellish as he encounters explosive city riots, a parade of provocative visitors and is thrust into a myriad of intimate encounters. Having started the day with everything and believing he is the future, Packer’s perfectly ordered, doubt-free world is about to implode.
