Here is the synopsis for “Pitch Perfect”:

Beca (Anna Kendrick) is that girl who'd rather listen to what's coming out of her headphones than what's coming out of you. Arriving at her new college, she finds herself not right for any clique. Still, somehow she's muscled into one she never would have picked on her own: alongside mean girls, sweet girls and weird girls whose only thing in common is how good they sound when they sing together.

When Beca takes this acoustic singing group out of their world of traditional arrangements and perfect harmonies into all-new mashups, they fight to climb their way to the top of the cutthroat world of college a cappella. This could wind up either the coolest thing they'll ever do or the most insane. It will probably be a little of both.

Loaded with new takes on old favorites to hits of right now that are seamlessly mixed together, mashed up and arranged like you've never heard before, “Pitch Perfect” is directed by Jason Moore. Moore opened our eyes to the very misbehaved life of puppets in the surprise Broadway sensation “Avenue Q”.
