CHICAGO – Do you have a diehard “Harry Potter” fan in your family? No, I don’t mean someone who likes Harry Potter. I’m talking someone who is DEVOTED to the world created by J.K. Rowling. Because it takes some serious devotion to commit to the “Harry Potter Wizard’s Collection,” a new Blu-ray box set from Warner Bros. that includes a stunning THIRTY-ONE DISCS along with numerous physical collectibles, new special features, and a marvelous case. It’s incredibly expensive but also incredibly cool.

Rating: 5.0/5.0

Where do we start in analyzing this set? It’s massive. Those willing to open their wallets and empty their bank accounts will find, of course, all eight of the films and all of the previously released special features that were included in the individual editions of each film. But that’s not it. It’s not just a repackaging. The collection also includes five hours of new special features, which are separated on three discs. The “Harry Potter Wizard’s Collection” bonus disc includes some great features like the “50 Greatest Harry Potter Moments,” in which the cast count down their favorites, and “The Harry Potters You Never Met,” which highlights the stunt people who took the place of Harry, Ron, and Hermione so many times.

The set also includes the final two parts of the “Creating the World of Harry Potter” mega-featurette that has spanned the Ultimate Edition releases of the films over the last few years — “Story” and “Growing Up.”

Finally, fans will adore the physical collectibles, like a book of the many labels featured throughout the series, a collection of sketch prints that detail concept art from the film, and a full color 24” x 36” map of Hogwarts printed on fabric.

Check out this clip before you pick up your copy and look below it for all of the details on what should be one the most cherished gift sets of the holiday season:
