CHICAGO – Season Ten for Chicago's Asian Pop-Up Cinema will kick off on March 10th, 2020, with (click on title for tickets and info) "I'm Livin' It." [21] which begins a week highlighting Hong Kong films. "A Witness Out of the Blue" [22] is on March 11th.

Season Ten of the Asian Pop-Up Cinema (APUC) will run for the next five weeks, until April 9th. Each week will be dedicated to highlighting films in different Asian territories – Hong Kong, China, Taiwan, South Korea and Japan. Most of the screenings will be presented at the festival's primary venue, AMC River East 21 in Chicago's Streeterville neighborhood, and other select titles will screened at the venues of APUC's collaborative partners ... Chicago Filmmakers, Alliance Française de Chicago, and the Chinese American Museum.
