CHICAGO – Doc10, the yearly Chicago documentary film festival, is on DAY THREE on May 21st, 2022, with the films (click links) LET THE LITTLE LIGHT SHINE [23] (1pm, see below), RIOTSVILLE USA [24] (4pm), THE TERRITORY [25] (6:30pm), and FIRE OF LOVE [26] (9pm).

Rating: 4.0/5.0

“Let the Little Light Shine” is timely in the sense that public education is in the crosshairs of both conservative politics and the economic delineation of Chicago’s rapidly changing neighborhoods, that are challenging historically black districts. These issues come together in “Little Light ... “ as activist parents try to save the near Southside, and mostly black, National Teachers Academy (NTA) ... the City of Chicago wants to convert it from its current station as a high achieving grade school to a high school for the rapidly gentrifying (and mostly white) new residents. As the challenges mount, the principal, students and even Chance the Rapper gets involved, but will it be enough? Director Kevin Shaw, Producer Rachel Dickson and story participants will be in attendance for a post-film Q&A.
