CHICAGO – Patrick McDonald of HollywoodChicago.com appears on “The Morning Mess” with Dan Baker on WBGR-FM (Monroe, Wisconsin) on November 17th, 2022, reviewing “She Said,” about the New York Times breaking the Harvey Weinstein case that launched #MeToo, in theaters on November 18th.

Rating: 4.0/5.0

It was the work of two brave reporters on the New York Times, Meghan Twohey (Carey Mulligan) and Jodi Kantor (Zoe Kazan) who dissected the many sources and most importantly got them to talk, and it finally indicted Weinstein (who is only depicted through voice and the back of his head) and was instrumental in a new women’s movement. They were joined by NYT editors Rebecca Corbett (Patricia Clarkson) and Dean Baquet (Andre Braugher) to break open the story and society.

“She Said” is in theaters beginning November 18th. Featuring Carey Mulligan, Zoe Kazan, Patricia Clarkson, Andre Braugher, Jennifer Ehle and Ashley Judd. Screenplay adapted by Rebecca Lenkiewicz. Directed by Maria Schrader. Rated “R”
