CHICAGO – FOX announced their fall premiere dates this morning and the network should start off with a skip in its step with “So You Think You Can Dance” and “Glee [12]” kicking off the season on Wednesday, September 9th. The network is debuting only two other new primetime shows - the comedy “Brothers [6]” starts on Friday, September 25th and “The Cleveland Show [18]” starts on Sunday, September 27th.

Three days later, the old standbys of the network, “COPS” and “America’s Most Wanted” return to anchor Saturday nights yet again on September 12th.

Arguably the best night of television on the network returns on Thursday, September 17th with the fifth season premiere of “Bones [4]” followed by the second season premiere of “Fringe [11]”.

The network’s most beloved Fall show, “House [20],” returns on Monday, September 21st with a two-hour premiere. The next week, September 28th, “House” will be its standard one-hour length and “Lie To Me [15]” will premiere its second season.

The controversial “Dollhouse [8],” surprisingly renewed in favor of “Terminator: The Sarah Connor Chronicles,” will return on Friday, September 25th, following the one-hour premiere of “Brothers”. “Brothers” will shrink to its standard half-hour form the next week and “Til Death” will join the nightly lineup with its premiere on October 2nd.

The Sunday night lineup starts on September 27th with the series premiere of “The Cleveland Show” and season premieres of “The Simpsons [19],” “Family Guy [9],” and “American Dad [22]”.

Finally, the late night effort of “The Wanda Sykes Show” will debut on Saturday, November 7th at 10pm CST.
