CHICAGO – It’s time for Round Three, 29 years after the second film. “Bill & Ted Face the Music” opened August 28th, 2020 in theaters and VOD platforms. Patrick McDonald of HollywoodChicago.com, reviewed the film during the Eddie Volkman Show (Star 96.7 FM) in Joliet, Illinois.

“Bill & Ted Face the Music” presents the former teenage heroes (Alex Winter and Keanu Reeves) as middle aged men, failing to get their band Wyld Stallyns off the ground since their heroic number one song in the second film. The future is represented by Kelly (Kristen Schaal), the daughter of their old mentor Rufus, and recruits the clueless duo to again create a song that this time will save reality. Oh yeah, and Bill & Ted have two daughters (Samara Weaving and Brigette Lundy-Paine) helping them out.

The film will open simultaneously in theaters and through Video-On-Demand (see streaming channels for details).
